November 2011 Housing Statistics from SDAR

Sales of existing homes remain stable; median prices only slightly lower

(SAN DIEGO, Calif. – December 12, 2011) The San Diego Association of REALTORS® (SDAR) released the October 2011 housing statistics through the Sandicor, Inc. Multiple Listing Service (MLS).

November sales of existing properties remained stable compared October, with only a 1 percent decrease in detached (single-family) homes, and no change attached (condo and townhome) sales. The better news was the 14 percent jump in single-family home sales compared to November of 2010. Condo/townhome sales also saw a rise of 2 percent over the same month last year.

Median prices for both single-family homes and condos again saw a slight decrease month over month. Single-family homes prices were 1.4 percent lower compared to last month, and attached properties were 1.2 percent lower. Compared to November 2010, median prices were 10.2 percent lower for single-family properties, and 4.6 percent lower for attached properties.

“Compared to November of 2010, San Diego County home sales experienced an encouraging 14.3 percent jump for detached single-family homes and a 2 percent increase for attached condos and townhomes,” said Bob Kevane, SDAR President. “However, median home prices for both detached and attached continue to trail behind 2010 levels.”
