Free Counseling Clinic Offered for Saving Your Home

Event is this Saturday, July 30

(SAN DIEGO, Calif. – July 27, 2011) The San Diego Association of REALTORS® (SDAR) is participating in a free Homeowners Counseling Clinic with the Housing Opportunities Collaborative (HOC) on Saturday, July 30, at New Creation Church, 3115 Altadena Avenue, San Diego, CA 92105. The event takes place from 9:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

In a “one-stop shop,” homeowners can find answers to saving their homes with the help of housing counselors, tax consultants, REALTORS®, lenders, and community service organizations. Learn about short sales, bankruptcy, credit restoration, and programs offered through “Keep Your Home California.” One-on-one counseling will be available from HUD-approved housing agency and pro bono attorneys.

Seating is limited, and advance registration is recommended. However, walk-ins are welcome. To attend, your name, address, and telephone number by e-mail to HomeClinic@housingcollaborative.org or call (619) 283-2200.

“As real estate professionals, we’re proud to be involved in this important public service to homeowners in our community who need to know the options available to help them keep their homes,” said Bob Kevane, 2011 SDAR President. “Together we can help everyone navigate this housing crisis.”

The HOME Clinic is a community service program of the Housing Opportunities Collaborative (HOC), a coalition of nonprofit organizations and housing agencies in the San Diego region, to assist and education homeowners and home buyers in their housing needs. HOC is a HUD-approved housing counseling agency. Learn more at www.HousingCollaborative.org.
