New Laws & Industry Outlook Virtual Meeting Hosted by the Greater San Diego Association of REALTORS®

(SAN DIEGO) -- An annual event hosted by the Greater San Diego Association of Realtors (SDAR), the New Laws & Industry Outlook will go virtual this year, with a free online meeting Thursday, January 14, from 12:00 to 2:30 p.m., to educate San Diego area real estate professionals about the laws, legislative proposals and issues shaping the industry in 2021 and beyond.

“New Laws & Industry Outlook” features the region’s top policymakers, along with representatives from the National Association of REALTORS® and the California Association of REALTORS®, who will present updates on economy in perspective with the pandemic, as well as new laws, risk management topics, and key issues shaping federal, state and local real estate in 2021 and beyond.

SDAR President Carla Farley will kick off the program and introduce the presenters, which include:

- Nathan Fletcher, Chair of the San Diego County Board of Supervisors
- Gov Hutchinson, Asst. General Counsel, California Association of REALTORS®
- Dr. Jennifer Campbell, President, San Diego City Council
- Shannon McGahn, Chief Advocacy Officer, National Association of REALTORS®
- Jordan Levine, Vice President and Chief Economist, California Association of REALTORS®
- Sanjay Wagle, Senior VP of Government Affairs, California Association of REALTORS®

“At the beginning of the pandemic, residential and commercial real estate were rightfully deemed an essential industry in California,” said Farley. “In the past year our members have managed to play a role in keeping the economy moving while helping home buyers and sellers maneuver the complexities of their real estate plans in the COVID-19 world. As 2021 dawns, we’re ready to get back to work, and our annual ‘New Laws’ session will put us on the right track.”
