Greater San Diego Association of REALTORS® Partners with GlanHealth to Provide Sanitizing Services for Local Real Estate Professionals

San Diego (January 19, 2021) -- The Greater San Diego Association of REALTORS® (SDAR) has entered into an agreement with Dalrada Health's GlanHealth sanitizing services and products to offer exclusive access to real estate professionals in the San Diego area. SDAR members will receive discounted pricing on GlanHealth sanitizing services for use at property showings, and on their line of disinfecting products including wipes and hand sanitizers.

"We are extremely pleased to provide persistent eco-friendly sanitizing coverage to the real estate industry through SDAR," said Brian Bonar, Dalrada CEO. "Dalrada's mission is to restore normalcy to business and life. Providing 360-degree floor-to-ceiling sanitizing peace of mind fulfills Dalrada's mission with aiding the real estate industry in its return to normalcy."

SDAR and GlanHealth plan to make sanitizing services convenient to schedule through their website and call center and offer REALTORS® a method to protect clients while continuing to show properties and conduct business during the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Throughout this pandemic, our association has taken multiple measures to prioritize our REALTORS'® safety," said Michael Mercurio, CEO of SDAR and SDMLS. "Our partnership with GlanHealth provides our members and their clients with additional safety options. We're excited to offer a program to REALTORS® to help maintain their well-being during this unprecedented time."

GlanHealth services are performed by spraying a fine electrostatic mist around each room of a property to eliminate microbes and continue to protect against them after the service is completed. Once applied, GlanHealth products protect surfaces for up to 28 days. Each of their products are comprised of fabric, carpet, and electronic-safe ingredients, making them suitable for use in home interiors without risk of damage. Spray services sanitize large areas and surfaces that are difficult to clean with traditional methods.

Not only can SDAR members take advantage of these services for a lower rate, but they may also receive discounts on orders of GlanHealth products. SDAR and GlanHealth created a dedicated call center exclusively for service inquiries and scheduling appointments to offer support for those interested in their services and products.

By granting SDAR members special pricing on sanitizing services and their purchase of GlanHealth products, SDAR and GlanHealth plan on making preventative measures more accessible to better protect real estate professionals and the local community while allowing their businesses to continue.
